A DISTURBING TREND

... of thought seems to be developing concerning Richard Nixon. Or it disturbs me, anyway.

From the gist of reports on television and in newspapers someone is trying to make a hero out of him. His former press secretary, Herb Klein, whom Nixon said "didn't have his head screwed on right," even suggested that President Ford use him as an advisor or ambassador on foreign affairs.

Poppycock! is my reaction.

Let's not forget that Richard Nixon resigned under a black cloud brought about by his lying to the American public, an act he personally confessed to committing prior to resigning. He refused to admit this in his resignation speech; but that does not detract from the facts in hand.

So, I would say to allow Richard Nixon to have anything at all to do with the running of our government would be a slap in the face of the American people.

Throughout history when a president has completed his term under honorable conditions, he is seldom given the opportunity to help develop American policy. If this is so, then why in the heck should Richard Nixon be afforded that opportunity when he has failed miserably to fulfill the original trust given him by the people of the United States?

On the subject of trying him for his actions, I am somewhat divided in my thinking. On one hand, I agree that he has suffered much by being forced to resign the highest office in the land.

But on the other hand, no one should be above the law in our country. I am certain that many a person in prison today would much rather been asked to resign their job instead of going to prison.

Richard Nixon maintains that impeachment would clear him of all charges. If he is that certain, then it seems to me that to clear his name he would want to fight the charges in Court. If they could be proved wrong, then I and all others who have condemned him have caused him an injustice.

But, no matter which direction he decides to go, for sake of our country let's don't let him have a say in any part of governmental policy.

ATTEND FIREMEN DANCE AND CARNIVAL

READY FOR SATURDAY ... It's easy to tell these men are ready for the annual Hondo Volunteer Street Dance and Carnival which is slated for the Courthouse Square Saturday night. They are standing by just a few of the many prizes that someone will take home when the night is over. Flashing a "come on out and have fun" smile are left to right: Dooley Eckhart, Richard Finger, Roy Long, Games Chairman Kenneth Bendele and General Chairman R. V. [Reno] Stanga.

Firemen sponsor event

"Everything will be ready Saturday night for a lot of fun," says R. V. (Reno) Stanga, general chairman of the annual Hondo Volunteer Fire Department Street Dance and Carnival.

As in the past, the big fun-fest will be held on the Courthouse Square in Hondo and activities get underway between six and seven o'clock.

The carnival portion, which provides much of the fun and food, will feature the big games table, baseball dunking, food booths, fishing pond, soft drinks, and many other fun things for young and old alike. There will be many prizes taken home by some happy people.

Tony Koch and his Country Western group will play for the dance which follows the carnival.

Tickets for the gala affair are now being sold by firemen and chairman Stanga says: "Get your tickets now and in addition to having a good time, you can know you are helping us protect your home and business."

Rabe appointed JP in Devine

In light action Monday Medina County Commissioners Court appointed Harry Rabe of Devine as temporary JP in Precinct 5.

The regular JP Sam Stribling has undergone heart surgery.

Commissioners also reported that Edgar Stiegler has agreed to serve again as election judge in Precinct 21 in Hondo. They also appointed Rene Aelvoet as clerk in Precinct 21, a spot formerly held by the late Charles Larkin.

The Court also instructed that a letter be written to the state requesting the County's annual allotment to the Lateral Road Fund in the amount of $35,000.

Sales tax check reaches $17,588

The first quarter 1974 sales tax check for the City of Hondo totaled $17,588.17, City Secretary Faye Walker reported this week.

This check was slightly higher than the January, February, March check in 1973 which was $16,877.

Residents owe firemen 'thanks' for protection

Hondo volunteer firemen this week receive a well-deserved salute from the businessmen of the City.

With the Firemen's annual Carnival and Street Dance coming up Saturday night on the Courthouse Square, this is an appropriate time to say "thank you" to the 50 members of the department as well as to those men who have served down through the years.

Audit shows Hondo in black at end of May

An audit report which showed the City of Hondo had approximately $127,000 on hand in the general account at the end of its fiscal year May 31 highlighted the Tuesday night City Council meeting.

The report, which combined with the work to arrive at its conclusions, cost the city taxpayers $5,075, did not include the $56,711 in Revenue Sharing money the city received during the past fiscal year.

Councilmen, after hearing Police Chief Jimmy Mangum's report on increasing trouble with juvenile offenders, expressed a desire to study the problem of obtaining a juvenile officer.

Mangum said that under the new Family Code, passed last year by the Texas Legislature, it is absolutely necessary for both a juvenile officer and a special juvenile detention center. "We cannot hold a juvenile now on any offense," he said. "But with the proper facilities, we can hold them up to 72 hours according to the new code."

Council agreed that Mayor Pro-tem G. E. Pedroza contact County Judge Jerome Decker to see if the problem can be discussed on a countywide basis. "I'll talk to the Judge," Pedroza said.

"Write him a letter," said Councilman Bud Gwartyne.

"I'll write him and talk to him," Pedroza said.

A brief discussion was held on the possibility of hiring a new patrolman when Wayne Wiemers leaves for his new job with the Border Patrol. No definite decision was made.

A tentative meeting was set for Wednesday, August 21, to discuss electric rates and the new contract proposal made to the City by the San Antonio Public Service Board.

Water Superintendent Elmer Faseler reported no bids were received on laying 10,000 feet of water line and the bid will be recalled following a change in specifications.

He also reported that city water wells pumped 56,000,000 gallons of water last month as compared to 23,000,000 the same month a year ago. "This was an average of more than 2,000,000 gallons per day," he said.

And as usual the old "bug-a-boo" of lost water came up. It seems that of the total amount pumped 8,627,000 gallons was used but unmetered.

Faseler pointed out there are many places where the water goes and does not get metered or charged for by the city. These include: the golf course, street maintenance, fire department, highway department, tree sprayers, and stand pipes that provide for trucks and well drilling.

Council approved a 10 year lease by the Medina County Museum on the entire block on which the Museum is located. It will automatically be renewed each year.

Councilmen also agreed to get with Garden Club members and discuss their proposal to extend the highway beautification project westward to the entrance to Medina Electric Cooperative.

Entry fee in corn shucking only $1; sign up at C of C

Have you paid your $1 and signed up for the second annual Hondo World Champion Corn Shucking contest?

Then time's a wasting. The big, fun-filled event is to be held on the Courthouse Square in Hondo on Saturday, August 24, and from all indications it is going to be a lala-paloosa (whatever that is).

In addition to county folk who say they are coming out to join the fun, there has been some interest indicated by members of the Polish and Lebanese groups in San Antonio.

"And we are told that Shotsy DeCock and some of the 'east of the Medina River' gang say they are coming to Hondo and walk off with all the honors," said contest master of ceremonies Burnis Lawrence.

"Of course," Lawrence added, "we feel that our 1973 champions, Charles Halbadier, Lillie Heyen and Chris Heyen will be here to defend their titles. And then, too, Judge Jerome Decker and Commissioner Fred Bader have again challenged each other, so if they show we feel they can give the Castroville gang a run for the money."

Speaking of money, there will be $25 cash prizes for the winner in the women (17 and above) and men (17 and above) divisions. This is in addition to handsome trophies being made by Eugene Reinartz. Youth division prize (13-16) will be $15 on a 50 cent entry fee. Entry fee in the top two categories is $1.

Two new categories have been added. They are 10-11-12 year-olds and 9 year-old and below. Their entry fee is 50 cents.

Tentatively, the music is to be provided by Joe Nixon, George Gooding and other musicians.

RAINFALL

Rainfall which fell over Medina County last totaled up to 10 inches in the Devine-Natalia area. Hondo-D'Hanis reported about 5 inches. Scattered areas reported more.

DASTARDLY DEED ... This scene at the Hondo Cemetery last week was enough to make people sick. And it proved that whoever desecrated the many gravestones had to be sick. This shot taken by the Anvil Herald's Tony Mendoza shows just a few of the headstones that were wantonly destroyed. Other inside pictures will reveal the remaining destruction that has many residents "up tight" to say the least. Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder's office is investigating the incident.

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Burnis:

Our Regional chamber has a tremendous job ahead of it during the coming year with increased programming in economic and tourist development and with the legislature convening in regular session in January.

John Cypher will be stepping down from his second term as president and the new president will need proven leaders on the board of directors to give the leadership the organization needs.

The election will be held at the annual conference at the Houston Oaks Hotel in Houston on September 26 and 27. We would like very much for you to allow us to place your name in nomination for another term on the board of directors.

Cordially,
William H. Keys
Chairman,
Nominating Committee

Dear Joe Fohn:

More good news about your good newspaper's account of the recent screwworm flight to Puerto Rico.

It now seems apparent that the Pentagon is also delighted with the coverage and they have requested three tearsheets of the July 11, 1974, edition of the Hondo Anvil Herald.

I will thank you now for all your kind help and if you'll mail the tearsheets to the 433rd, I will do the rest.

Again thanks,
Sgt. Joseph G. Cortes

Dear Gentlemen:

The Parishioners of Holy Cross Church, D'Hanis, ad their Pastor, the Very Rev. Victor G. Schmidtzy, would like to thank you wholeheartedly for publicizing our Annual Picnic Homecoming Sunday, August 4. It was a grand success!

Thank you again!
God bless you!

Dear Chambers of Commerce:

The American Association of Teachers of German now has a number of regional and state Placement Information Centers throughout the country. We encourage persons with skills in German and businesses with jobs for persons skilled in German to register with us. We then try to keep employers and prospective employees in communication with each other. Thus, employers can be sure not only of filling vacancies, but they can also be sure of filling them with the best possible candidates. Our referral services are free, of course.

In order to locate firms which may have positions for persons with skills in the German Language, we are trying to communicate with every possible business that has foreign branches, deals in imports and exports, or has some kind of international base.

If you could provide the names and addresses of such firms in your city or help us in any way, we would be very grateful. We have discovered that in the past several jobs were withdrawn because qualified persons with German language skills could not be found. When this happens, not only does a job seeker miss a potentially good opportunity, but also the business establishment suffers, and therefore the community as well.

We hope to hear from you soon, and we send out appreciation and best wishes.

Sincerely,
Duane V. Keilstrup

Some letters are down-right fascinating!

"Gentlemen,
"I hope to make two trips to Texas this year, one in late August and another in early November. Both trips will serve a dual purpose. I am employed as an architectural historian by the Nashville firm of Architect-Engineer Associates. The architecture and lore of Texas have held a great fascination for me ever since I lived in Alice and Victoria as a child in 1961.

I vacation in your state frequently, but would like to make this trip a bit more than just a vacation. I would hope that I could get to know a few residents of your area and come to learn more of your history. If I find some good examples of frontier buildings, I would like to take some photographs and notes.

"Equal to my interest in architecture and the history of the West is my love for hunting. In addition to my architectural job, I work evenings at a large Nashville gun store. In all my trips to Texas, I have never had the opportunity to take advantage of your excellent hunting. During this trip in August, I would like to make a few acquaintances who have a similar sporting interest and thus discover some good companions and places for deer hunting in November. If possible, I would also like to do a little varmint hunting (jackrabbit, armadillo, coyote, etc.) during the August trip.

"During November, I would hope to have a longer stay in Texas (two or three weeks), and take more architectural photographs as well as a lot of deer hunting. Any information you may have, such as the names of major property owners, availability of hunting leases, and the like would be deeply appreciated. I have sent similar letters to several Texas towns in order that I might be sure of receiving an adequate number of replies. I have included an address label and postage for your convenience. Your reply will be appreciated. Gratefully, Joseph B. Long, Jr., Nashville, Tenn."

Anyone going on a vacation in any direction? If so, check the brochures we have available. These are some we have added just in the past few days: Las Cruces, Anthony GUESS WHAT... This is the cover job described in a story about hotels in the Soviet Union. This was in the Intourist Hotel in Moscow. The sheets are put together in the form of a sack, sewed all around and with this hole in the middle. The blanket is stuffed inside the sack and the hole on top provides a spot of color for the bed as well as keeping the blanket clean. The Lawrences didn't know what to do with it the first night. They were undecided as to try to crawl inside, leave it off or what. So they put the blanket at the foot of the bed and covered up with the sack, hole and all. The maids set them straight the next day and this was the picture when they discovered the truth. [Photo by Patricia Lawrence]

Speaking of mailing out our famous sign postcard, do you send it with letters you send out-of-county or out-of-state? It would help spread the word.

4-H'ers return

By Wayne W. Scholtz

Six Medina County 4-H members recently returned from the Second Annual Texas 4-H Congress held July 23-26 at the Baker Hotel in Dallas.

Those attending were Karen Howard, West Devine 4-H Club; Clara Zinsmeyer, LaCoste 4-H Club; Neilson Boehme and Francis Haby, Rio Medina 4-H Club; Paula Moos, South Hondo Unit II 4-H Club; and Denise Saathoff, North Hondo 4-H Club.

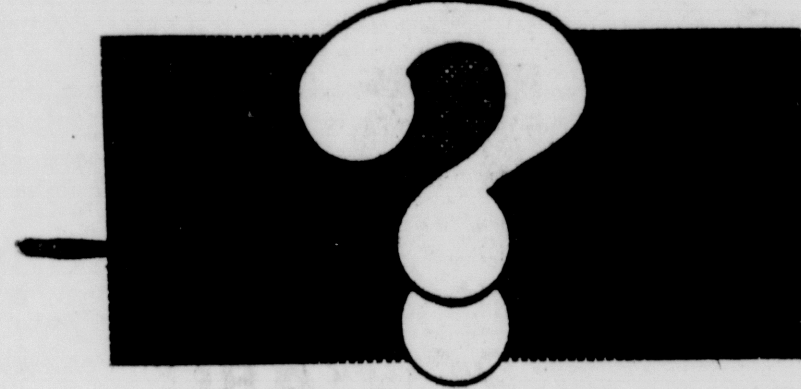

These and 35 other 4-H'ers from District 13 traveled to Dallas via chartered bus Tuesday, July 23 and returned Friday, July 26.

Theme for the four-day Congress of over 500 4-H members from all parts of Texas was "Careers in the World of Work" and was designed to help older 4-H members develop a strategy for career selection.

While at the Congress the 4-H'ers had opportunity to hear from different business people who gave guidelines on career selection.

They also had an opportunity to tour different businesses in the Dallas area to learn first-hand about careers available.

Mrs. C. F. Brown, Devine, secretary; Mrs. Albert Saathoff, Hondo, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward Neuman, Devine, reporter.

Marie Odam, Mrs. Donald Muennink and Wilma Linthicum were also selected to attend the State meeting as Medina County delegates on Sept. 17-19 in Amarillo.

The Council made plans to have the once-a-year Salad Luncheon in the Parish Hall in Hondo on October 22. It will feature a sale of baked goods, along with door prizes and a special program. The price is $1.75 a plate and serving starts at 11:30 a.m. Everyone make plans to attend this event.

INSTRUCTOR

He prepares them for the world.

Every word he says, every assignment he gives, every discipline he instills, is part of the preparation. His demand for perfection is constant. He teaches them to function responsibly as adults before leaving his classroom and Texas Military Institute.

And why does he do it? Because he loves them. He loves teaching, and the excitement of watching children grow into well-adjusted, happy, healthy young adults.

For nearly 10 years, Bryan Brown has taught foreign language at TMI. His classroom is a unique, stimulating learning environment that compels students to return after graduation with words of appreciation for Mr. Brown. He really has, they confide, prepared them for the world.

Your child will never forget TMI. It's where he'll learn to learn, to lead and to live. And you'll never regret it.

Mrs. Robert Paul McCoy

Waneck-McCoy Ceremony

Miss Janice Ann Waneck and Mr. Robert Paul McCoy were joined in marriage at Our Lady's Chapel at Incarnate Word College in San Antonio on August 10, 1974. Reverend Pascual Otazu was the officiating clergyman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Waneck of San Antonio and the granddaughter of Mrs. Gertrude Zerr of Hondo. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frances G. McCoy of San Antonio and the late Captain Robert G. McCoy. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a bodice and long fitted sleeves of reembodyered alencon lace. The high neckline and cuffs of the sleeves were banded with satin and a satin bow with streamers highlighted the center back of the full A-line skirt which extended into a chapel length lace edged train. An ivory turban-design headpiece held the double ankle length nylon illusion veil.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph V. DuFresne of San Antonio. Bridesmaids were Marcia Conolly of Ithaca, New York; Mrs. Randy Lewis of Austin, Texas; Ellen McCoy of San Antonio; and Andrea Purdon of Austin.

The attendants' gowns were of daffodil yellow polyester knit with bodice and long sleeves of ribbed knit. The cummerbund effect at the waistline highlighted the slim full length skirt sweeping into the ties at the center back. The bridesmaids carried lighted candles centered in a bouquet of daisies and baby's breath. They wore yellow tiered veils similar to the bride's.

Best man was Michael Broll of Austin, Texas. Groomsmen were Thaddeus Dobry of Baltimore, Maryland; George Lupiba, Thomas McCoy, and Paul Penaloza, all of San Antonio.

Ushers were Michael Copeland, Joseph DuFresne, and Benjamin Harrison of San Antonio.

Ring bearer for the occasion was Joseph Scott DuFresne of San Antonio. The entire candlelight ceremony was written by the bride and the groom. The Intercollegiate Choral Society performed at the ceremony.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Fort Sam Houston Officers Club.

The couple planned a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico.

Here's a borrowed jingle in favor of the urge to buy a new car: "The kind of car trouble/ That keeps bank accounts low/ Is payments that won't stop/ On a car that won't go!"

Sounds like a convincing argument for both dealer and banker and a powerful arm-twister for anyone struggling with his conscience. To buy or not to buy.

Because I can't draw a straight line with a ruler [even if someone holds it steady for me] I stand in awe of anyone gifted with the least smidgen of artistic talent. It seems to run in our family, here and there, but I never could run fast enough to catch up with it.

A recent letter from DOROTHY JONES, now a junior at HHS and daughter of the RAY JONESES, was enclosed in an envelope decorated on the sealing-flap side with freehand illustrations of her own.

Roadside trees and flowers with a shining sun in the background included Hondo's familiar WELCOME road sign. In the tiniest letters were the artist's initials. [I have some sort of a complex about artists who sign their work in letters that overshadow the picture.]

I am sending Dorothy's envelope to BKL and Tony, for the files of the printing department—just in case someone might choose to place an order for this very eye-catching design.

A phone call from GERTIE [Mrs. Barnitz] CARLE is the next best cheer-upper to "setting and seeing" which might pass for a translation of vis-a-vis. My French spelling is better than my pronunciation.

Gertie had accompanied her Arlington children and grandchildren on a shortie vacation to Padre Island and stopped trying to interpret what the wild waves might have been saying to chat a while with me.

It was one day that found me a bit on the un-Pollyannaish side and Gertie's contagious happy philosophy and cheery laugh were all I needed to cheer me up.

Truly, "A merry heart doeth good . . ." just as PROVERBS XVII-22 says -- only I omit the "medicine" comparison.

Never having been accused of being what is called "fashion-conscious", I often read the fashion news releases just for laughs. Hems, again, are on the hemming & having agenda.

Says one self-styled Authority: "Skirt lengths, mid-calf, are inching back again after a rerun in the late 30's, late 40's, and the last miserable flop of 1970. If the trend zaps out now, long skirts will forever go the way of the whalebone corset to the attic."

"Midcalf is still a dirty word to many women except the avant-garde types. It won't be easy to convince the over 25 generation that they now look like leftovers in miniskirts", says another style forecaster.

Leftovers, I know all about having served them for many years. Now, "leftovers in miniskirts" might be a new technique at meal time.

And, speaking of food, how about a sandwich made with TRITICALE bread?

A graduate student of the Texas Tech College of Home Economics is credited with this new development on the grocery shelves. Triticale is a hybrid grain made by crossing rye and wheat.

The new nutty-flavored bread is made of triti-flour, cottonseed flour and wheat flour, said the story.

The state bird of Oklahoma is the scissor-tailed flycatcher. Recently, a fan made of the feathers of 238 of these beautiful little birds sold for $650 and the sellers were in a heap of trouble with Federal agents.

Feathers of thousands of birds of some two dozen species are approved for Indian use for artifacts for religious purposes, but not to be sold on the lucrative tourist trade markets.

Authorities reported that they had seized "souvenirs" made of feathers from bald and golden eagles, seven kinds of hawks and other birds under the protection of federal and state laws.

As of this day, [or the night before], Wednesday, August 7, this part of Texas did get some rain. Not a flood but enough to make the grass and garden perk up and show their true colors and to keep the temperature down a notch or two.

BROOMS, remember 'em? It's not the housekeepers who are complaining this time. It's the manufacturers who are quoted as saying, "Brooms are now a pain in the neck. . . . Have we got problems? . . . The average housewife now has zero appreciation for the finest brooms made. . . ."

Ben Franklin is credited with having introduced a plant almost identical in appearance to ordinary corn—but it did not produce roasting ears. Eventually it wound up making what came to be the business end of the brooms which for long years were in great demand.

Most of the nation's annual production of 2.6 million brooms come from two centers in Illinois.

It is a long involved story, trend of the times, labor costs and foreign competition. Medina County broomcorn producers might tell you, if you really want to know, why Medina County is no longer producing what was once a money-making crop.

From the glowing reports in SPARKS and elsewhere in the ANVIL HERALD, BKL and PATRICIA had the trip of a lifetime. I have enjoyed reading about their adventures and experiences.

Closest I ever came to learning about Russia was many years ago when four young Russians signed up for my class in conversational English for foreigners, taught in one of Tulsa's high schools. I looked forward to a new experience.

I made it a point to learn how to greet them in their own language. A bookstore manager who sold me a book on "Beginner Russian" said, "It's real easy once you get the hang of it."

My students were ordered elsewhere after the first class and now I can't even remember how to say Howdy-skil! I still have the book which is still gathering dust, and I've never acquired "the hang of it"

Good fire equipment costs

It wasn't ever an easy job to be a Hondo fireman. But few Hondoans today realize just how hard it was to get a department organized back in 1909.

There was no such thing in a town the size of Hondo as a fire truck, or even fire wagon. Automobiles were a new development, and even the venerable Model T had not yet been introduced.

So when the newly organized Hondo Volunteer Fire Company No. 1 got together to discuss their firefighting needs, they went to Holloway Brothers with the specifications. This was in July of 1909.

By January 20 of 1910, the Anvil Herald ran this report:

"The Holloway Bros. have finished a hook and ladder wagon for the Hondo Fire Department that will approve an effective firefighting machine in case it is ever needed (optimists they were back then).

"It consists of a series of ladders sufficient to mount the top of any building in town, a pair of hooks, a series of chemical fire extinguishers, water buckets, picks, axes, crowbars, etc.

"All is loaded on the frame of a light Studebaker wagon so arranged as to be pulled by hand wherever it is wanted."

Hand-pulled -- some changes have indeed been seen in the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department.

But it takes money to keep a fire department, especially a volunteer company, abreast of the latest fire safety developments.

One of the best and most painless means of supporting your Volunteer Fire Department is to attend the annual Street Dance and Carnival Saturday night.

Come early, stay late, and spend some money.

Firemen combine years of experience

Hundreds of years of experience in fire fighting and prevention are available right here in Hondo, every time the alarm sounds.

Among the 50 firemen on duty, without counting the retired firemen who offer advice and backup aid, are hundreds of collective years of fighting grassfires, house fires and industrial fires in and around Hondo.

This experience is reinforced yearly by formal education at the Texas Firemen's workshop held at Texas A&M University. Hondo has sent representatives to this school each summer for many years. In the summer of 1973 the Hondo Volunteer Fire Department was represented at College Station by Tim Huesser, Bob Zuberbueler and A. T. Dale.

These men meet once each Thursday at the firehouse on Avenue K. Their other meetings might come at any time of the day or night, frequently in front of a blazing building or acres of smoking pastureland.

The weather is never quite right for a fire... it seems there is either sweltering heat in summer, or a breeze to fan the flames. In winter, the water seems to drench the icy firemen more than it Naming of various committee members occupied much of the time of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce directors Monday at their regular monthly meeting.

Jim Fridle, co-chairman along with Bob Peden of the Expansion Committee, said members include Kenneth Flory, Bruce Baize, Jerome Decker, Chick Tschirhart, Henry Nietenhoefer, Jim Prenzler and John Earl Boone.

Gaye Bippert, co-chairman of the Promotions Committee along with Burnis Lawrence, named to her committee: Mrs. Sandi Schweers, Mrs. Snookie Bader, Mrs. Phyllis Muenrink, Fred Graff and John Wentz.

President Bruce Foster discussed an AACOG committee he now chairs and suggested that Hondo should come up with some project and send an application to this committee.

The motion was made that Foster appoint a committee to check with AACOG on how to go about planning for a civic center. He appointed David McGraw and Burnis Lawrence to work with him on the study.

The question was asked, "What can be done to better promote the agriculture industry?" J. D. Schmidt reminded the directors that the annual agribusiness Seminar is scheduled for sometime in October.

The announcement was made that Santa Claus will visit all the kids of Hondo from 9 to 11 a.m. on December 7.

NAME CORRECTED

Last week in the Sparks Column the name of Adrian Spears was used in connection with the picture of a Hondo ex-student in the Texas Football magazine.

It should have read: Adrian Sorrel.

ST. LOUIS DAY . . . That big event in Castroville is just around the corner, August 25 to be exact, and they are getting ready to feed everyone like the king the day is named after. For instance they will prepare, 4,700 pounds of boneless beef, 4,000 pounds of sausage, 4,500 pounds of potato salad, 1,500 pounds of beans, 2,000 pounds of slaw and other goodies.

These are the sausage cooks and you can see they mean business as they get ready, left to right, Glenn Hans, Guy Allen Holzhaus, William Schott and George Schmidt.

Iris Bader to head group

At a meeting held August 12, 1974, at Brown's Nursing and Convalescent Center, Iris Bader was elected President of the volunteer group of women fondly known as the Cheer-Aiders. Patricia House was named publicity chairman and Grace Brookshire will be in charge of the telephone committee.

Judy Winkler, the new Social Director at the Center, outlined and discussed several possible projects for the year. More volunteers will be needed to make these projects successful. Individuals, sororities and organizations wishing to participate in the festivities may do so by contacting Judy Winkler at the Center.

Planned activities include games on Mondays and Wednesdays, 2:30 - 3:30 p.m.; crafts at 10 a.m.

each Tuesday; cards and dominoes on Fridays, all day. Any other entertaining activities will be welcomed.

For those not familiar with the purpose of this volunteer group, it is as follows: Making someone happy! The privilege of being a Cheer-Aider allows a person to volunteer his time to visit the Center each week to play cards or dominoes, or baking cookies, cupcakes or candies to be distributed among the people or given as prizes. Others use their talent to do shampoo and sets for the ladies, write letters or just read to someone. The Cheer-Aiders keep in mind that if the years were combined, these Senior Citizens have given hundreds of years of service and love to their communities, families and individuals.

With this realization, the volunteer group lovingly gives its time and talents with gratitude in being able to do so.

Would you like to become one of these special people? Monthly planning meetings are held at 10 a.m. on the second Monday of each month.

Four youths arrested

Four local boys, ages 15 to 16, have been charged by Hondo police with the break-in of four local businesses last month.

The foursome were charged with breaking into the Hondo Lumber Company, Jake's Liquor Store, Economy Motors and Garcia's Shoe Repair. Police said some of the merchandise taken in the break-ins was recovered.

Two of the youths were 15-years old and two were 16-years-old. Authorities said all four had been released. Two of the youths had been arrested on previous occasions but were released each time according to the police.

ATTEND FIREMEN DANCE AND CARNIVAL

HERE IN HONDO

The residents of 27th South enjoyed a Block Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Lawrence on Saturday evening, August 10.

The centerpiece for the serving table was a large watermelon half which was filled with various melon balls prepared by Debra and Terri.

A delicious meal and good conversation was enjoyed but the highlight of the evening was viewing the excellent slides and listening to the comments of the Lawrence's recent trip to Russia, Germany, Switzerland and Spain.

EYESORE GONE . . .
These pictures tell the story of another downtown eyesore that is on its way out. This dilapidated wooden shack, located between the new Ranch Store building and White Auto, was on its way down when Tony Mendoza snapped the shots. It is understood that at the present time nothing is planned for the spot. Anyway, it sure helps the looks of the downtown area.

An example of modern progress is that every year it takes less time and more money to get where you're going.

Now days if a fellow on the street asks you for a nickel for a cup of coffee, you give him the nickel and then follow him to the restaurant.

A long-haired youth was getting his first haircut in a year and was alarmed to see the barber wave a large magnet over his head. "Don't worry," assured the barber, "it's not a new treatment. I'm just trying to find my scissors."

A home that uses all-gas appliances is a home that uses natural gas most efficiently.

You may think you're conserving natural gas when you use another form of energy to dry your clothes, heat your water, cook your food and warm your home.

It may surprise you to learn that, in fact, non-gas appliances usually consume more natural gas than do gas appliances.

You see, in this part of the country, natural gas is generally used to produce electricity. By the time it gets to your home, more than two-thirds of the energy in natural gas is lost in the process of power generation and transmission.

On the other hand, gas comes into your home with about 93% of its original energy intact. And gas appliances use this energy very efficiently.

That's why you're actually helping to conserve natural gas by using it for cooking, water heating, clothes drying and home heating.

And in doing so, you'll also keep your utility bills down, your home clean and attractive, and your family comfortable.

But most important of all, you'll be making the wisest, most efficient use of one of our country's most precious natural resources.

THE BACK TO SCHOOL BLUES

At this time of year this not so mysterious malady seems to sweep the younger generation like an epidemic. The symptoms are classic and readily recognized by parents and teachers alike. A tendency to oversleep in the mornings, inability to concentrate on lessons and a general feeling of despair are a few of the more noticeable ones.

Medical science has not yet found a cure for the "Back to School Blues" and the likelihood is it will always show up at summer's end. We do not stock any products that will help but we do sympathize.

Excitement building in Castroville

CASTROVILLE - The site is Castroville's spacious Koenig Park, shaded by stately pecan trees on the banks of the winding Medina River. Thousands of people from all over the world gather to have a good time, a delicious meal, and a fun-filled day. The breath-taking aroma of barbecued beef and Alsatian-style sausage and many other delicacies fills the air, and busy workers scurry everywhere.

amusements are in operation and music and singing can be heard in every corner of the park.

Most of all, people are visiting with one another. Annual family reunions actually occur without being planned, old friends meet to talk over the past year's events, and new acquaintances are made, that, in most cases, will become life-long friendships.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 people mill about the park, and one begins to wonder how so many visitors cram their way into this little Alsatian village, whose normal everyday population is just slightly over 1,800.

What's the occasion? This setting can mean only one thing -- the annual, world-famous St. Louis Day Celebration, an event that transforms the little city of Castroville into a beehive of activity each year in August.

The date of this year's festival is August 25, the feast day of the patron saint of the parish, St.

Louis, king of France.

The gala affair, dubbed the "Homecoming for the state of Texas" by the Texas Tourist Agency, has truly earned this title. Persons from all over the world, much less the state, come back to the "Little Alsace of Texas" to take part in the event that will this year celebrate its ninety-second anniversary. Castroville is located just 25 miles west of San Antonio, on U. S. Highway 90.

Tri-chairmen of this year's picnic, Larry Haby, Roman Garza, and Charles Haby, have been busy selecting the numerous and experienced committee chairmen and coordinating their all-important activities as the wheels of the celebration begin to turn.

Guides can either 'make or break' any journey

By Burnis Lawrence

The success of any trip to a foreign country must depend to a great degree on the guides one has showing them the various places.

In our recent journey to Western Europe and the Soviet Union, Patricia and I enjoyed our guides very much. In the Soviet Union we did not try to analyze them or what they were saying, but rather listened to the information they imparted about their country and the historic areas we were visiting. That they were expressing the views and mores of their own country and government was understood so we refused to get a hangup over the fact Soviet thinking does not coincide with ours on all matters.

First of all the most important person in making our entire journey a success was our tour manager, Hendrick T. DeVries of Amsterdam. Hank was, and is, what one can truly call a cosmopolite. He has been conducting tours for 13 years, has been an advertising salesman, a management consultant and has over the past years followed several other careers. His wide knowledge, his experience, his congeniality, and his strong desire to help in all ways made the trip a delight.

When we landed in Moscow we were met by Lydia Usikova who not only served as our guide in Moscow, but accompanied us to Leningrad and Kiev.

Lydia is married, in fact, the "A" at the end of her last name indicates she "is the wife of," and she and her husband have a seven year old son. Her husband is a physicist. We thought she answered every question we asked as fully and concisely as possible. Naturally, there were many answers we did not agree with, but that is only natural when the ideologies of two countries are so different and their systems of government are so diametrically opposed.

We thought she was extremely helpful in all that we did and asked. One thing for certain she made an instant hit when the entire group, and there were some sincere tears when we parted company at the Kiev airport when we left for East Berlin. She promised everyone she is coming to the United States in 1976 and naturally she was asked to visit in Texas so we could all have a "reunion."

Arriving in Leningrad by the Red Arrow Express, an overnight train ride from Moscow, we were introduced to Emma Karimova, a witty young blonde who had the right answers at all times.

For instance, on our first official tour of Leningrad that morning, after having arrived at 8 a.m. on the train, she discussed the weather changing so often in Leningrad. She said "just like you say in Texas, if you don't like the weather, wait ten minutes and it will change."

Emma explained to us how to mail a letter to someone in the Soviet Union; first you place the country, then the city, then the street, then the last name and finally the first name.

Whereas Lydia was more patient, or hid her impatience better, Emma would occasionally show an impatient moment when our group straggled through a museum and was not always in a group so she could talk to us. Not long, nor audibly, but an instant of aggravation would appear in her eyes and voice and then would quickly disappear. Of course, this was something she had to become accustomed to, for the pattern was set in Amsterdam and continued throughout the entire tour. We seemed to stay continuously busy talking to each other, more interested in repeating the chit-chat we had told each other a hundred times than hearing an explanation of certain points of interest. But invariably after the guides had finished explaining an object of art or what have you, some straggler would come up and ask "now what did you say this was?"

Anyway, all the guides, including Lydia and Emma, performed their job well in not becoming more impatient than they did.

Both guides work for Intourist, the state owned travel agency. Intourist controls all the hotels, plans all the tours and provides all the guides, buses, etc. I must say they did extremely well by our tour.

We discovered through Emma in Leningrad that Lydia is considered one of the top guides and interpreters working for Intourist. Lydia told us that when she was not working with American and English groups in the Soviet Union, she accompanied tours outside the Soviet Union as an interpreter. She also served as an interpreter for the press delegation that accompanied President Nixon to Moscow. In fact that delegation stayed in the same hotel we did in Moscow, the Intourist. Both she and Emma were university graduates.

Our stay in Kiev was brief but we had a wonderful guide named Luda. She too was married and had graduated from the university in Kiev. She was extremely proud of her city, her state the Ukraine and her college education. She said she was born in Moscow but liked Kiev much better.

So to us, as well, I suspect, to all tours, the guides and tour manager really "make or break" the experiences. Patricia and I believe we were fortunate in our drawing the guides we did throughout the trip. Hank from Amsterdam, Jackie in Amsterdam, Theresa in Switzerland, Lydia, Emma and Luda in the Soviet Union, (and for the life of me I can't remember the name of the good looking young lady in West Berlin); and Julian in Madrid. Yep, Julian was the only man besides Hank.

They all did their job in fine fashion, and our memories of this memorable journey are filled with more vivid accounts of the things we saw because of them. To them all, we say "Thanks."

Bogus checks snare couple

Two Hondo residents, Weldon Mansell Jr and his wife, Sandra, were still in county jail late Tuesday after being charged with an alleged count of forgery by passing. He is 22 and she is 20.

They were arrested in connection with a series of bogus checks passed over a two-month period. Their arrest over the weekend climaxed a month-long investigation by the Medina County Sheriff's department.

SPACE EXHIBIT

These two young ladies served as guides the afternoon we visited the Industrial and Agricultural Achievements Exhibition near Moscow. In going over my notes I found I forgot to put their names down, but they provided us a good tour. The girl on the left was a special exhibition guide. The girl on the right told us that the state pays every student's way through the university but when they graduate the state assigns them to some job anywhere in the Republic for three years. After that time they can find themselves a job elsewhere if they wish to do so. She was married, so got to stay in her hometown of Moscow; but she was trained to be a teacher and there were no openings in her field in Moscow, so they placed her as a guide in Intourist.

Students to be offered free meals

During the 1974-75 school year the Hondo schools once again will offer free meals to those children whose parents have an income less than standards set by the government.

Supt. Kenneth Flory explained the program in a recent letter to all parents. Dear Parent or Guardian:

The Hondo Schools serve nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for 35 cents.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown on the scale are eligible for free meals. If your income is greater than those shown but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses, your children may still be eligible.

To apply for free meals for your children, at anytime during the year, complete the attached application and return it to the school. The school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible within 10 days of receiving your application. If you do not agree with the school's decision, you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the principal at your child's school.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have such children living with you and wish to apply for such meals for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin.

If we can be of any further assistance or if your income changes during the year, please contact us.

To be eligible, the following criteria must be met:

Pursuant to Section 9 of the National School Lunch Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1758, P.L. 91-248), the income poverty guidelines for determining eligibility for free lunches in National School Lunch Program and commodity only schools are prescribed, as of July 1, 1974, as follows on family size and income:

One (1), $0-2910; Two (2), $0-3830; Three (3), $0-4740; Four (4), $0-5640; Five (5), $0-6480; Six (6), $0-7310; Seven (7), $0-8060; Eight (8), $0-8810; Nine (9), $0-9510; Ten (10), $0-10,190; Eleven (11), $0-10,860; Twelve (12), $0-11,530; Each additional family member, $670.

IT'S GOOD FOR

Maybe it ISN'T appendicitis -- but appendectomy is safer than chance of rupture, doctors explain. If there is likelihood of appendicitis, it's wiser to operate.

Nothing will stop a sunburn's peeling: the outer skin is dead. But a cold shower, aspirin and spray anesthetic will ease the pain.

According to the U. S. Center for Disease Control, we are in the midst of an epidemic -- of lice. It hits rich and poor alike. Hair length is NOT a factor, doctors assure us.

Another "cure" for hiccups: lick a teaspoon of sugar.

They're working on a sensor implant for diabetics, to help control insulin and food balance. Device will sense when sugar level is too high or low, and tell patient what to do.

Meanwhile, diabetics find a reliable source of insulin and hypodermic supplies at Dan's Drug, Hwy. 90 West, Hondo, 426-3305.

The dosage you use is kept safe and refrigerated until you need it.

Hondo reservists

Ten Air Force Reservists from Hondo began their annual active duty training at Kelly AFB. They are members of the 433rd Tactical Airlift (Alamo) Wing, the Reserve's tactical airlift arm in the Southwestern United States.

"Tactical airlift" means aerial delivery of passengers and cargo, conceivably under combat conditions. Alamo Wing aircorps are specialists at air-dropping cargo and paratroopers.

Local Reservists are skilled in all phases of the tactical airlift mission, whether it be a primary one such as flying or a support function such as maintenance, personnel, supply, or security. A full spectrum of Air Force specialties are involved.

Annual training at the Alamo Wing began on July 20 and lasts until August 18. Members of the wing will serve their two weeks active duty at a specified time during that period.

Special Folklife prices announced

The management of the Texas Folklife Festival, which will be held September 12-15 at the UTSA Institute of Texas Cultures in downtown San Antonio, today announced a program whereby persons purchasing advance festival tickets can save 25% or more.

According to Joe Perry, administrative manager of the Institute, people can buy advance tickets for $1.50 for adults, 35 cents for children. After September 7, the regular price of $2 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12 will prevail.

The bargain admission tickets are available in San Antonio at all three Joske's; at Handy Andy's Central Park, McCreless, Austin Highway, Bandera Road, S.W. Military Highway and Wonderland supermarkets; and at Tommy's restaurant.

All Army and Air Force bases in San Antonio will handle the tickets through their special service offices for the convenience of military and civilian personnel.

The discount tickets will also be available at the 1st State Bank and at Joske's in Austin and the New Braunfels Smokehouse.

Other locations will be established but the advance tickets can be purchased by mail. Send your check or money order to Texas Folklife Festival, UTSA Institute of Texas Cultures, P. O. Box 1226, San Antonio, Texas 78294.

Texas' "Biggest Block Party" is a fun-filled celebration that shows how Texans have fun. It brings to life the foods, games, music, dances, contests, arts, crafts and costumes in Texas' largest ethnic reunion. The event covers 15 acres of the Institute grounds at HemisFair Plaza and officials anticipate 100,000 visitors for the September 12-15 festival.

Veterans to hold Bar-B-Q

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3891 will hold its annual Membership Barbecue at Hondo City Park on Friday, August 16, 1974, from 5 p.m. until everyone has had enough to eat and drink. Serving will be at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Anyone who is eligible and interested in becoming a member is invited, as are all present members and their wives.

For more information, contact Post Commander R. C. Bless Jr., or District Commander Rudy Proctor Jr.

CONTACT FOOTBALL... will fill the air around Hondo High School with leather-popping sounds Friday as Head Coach David Howard runs his Owl hopefuls through their first contact drills. The First four days this week have been devoted to conditioning and orientation to new offensive and defensive plays. After a week of "real practice", the Owls will face their first scrimmage on Barry Field Friday night September 23. In these pictures, Tony Mendoza taught the Owls going through their exercises.

The 90's are '74 champs

The Medina Valley 90's are the 1974 champions of the Highway 90 Baseball League after whipping D'Hanis 14-1 Sunday. Sunday's lop-sided victory marked the second straight win for Medina Valley who ended the season with an 11-1 record. D'Hanis finished with an 8-4 record.

Chris Keller and Greg Biediger both blasted home runs for the winners and each collected three hits. The only D'Hanis run came in the fourth inning on three straight singles.

Jerry Burrell was the winning pitcher and Walt Rothe took the loss.

birds are just leaving the nest, but it is almost unheard of during the winter-and this was the dead of winter. When he got his binoculars, the biologist found that the bird being fed was an old grizzled veteran. The lower mandible of his beak was broken off and he couldn't pick up food for himself.

The need for companionship goes back through the years to the dim, dark ages of unrecorded history. It is probably one of the reasons man first domesticated an animal.

SPORT FACTS

Ralph Hauger

--Oddity--

The star young golfer, Johnny Miller, is righthanded. But some years ago when he was a caddy in San Francisco he played a match swinging left-handed. Miller shot in the 70's and won the match.

Sports Laugh
Richie Zisk of the Pittsburgh Pirates hit two home runs in one game against Claude Osteen of Houston and explained how it happened.

He said "Claude made two mistakes. The first was a slider that didn't slide and the second was a curve that failed to curve."

OUT DOORS

By L. D. Nuckles

It has been fairly well established that man does not do so well if cut off from all contact with his fellow man. He needs some sort of companionship, and if he doesn't have it from his own kind he will turn to animals or friends.

Wildlife scientists have determined that this need for fellowship is found in almost all wild animals too. Not only do animals need companionship, there are many recorded cases where animals cooperate to get a job done. Many more cases have been observed where one animal went to another for help when there was something he couldn't accomplish alone.

A biologist in Northeast Texas saw a blue jay feeding another jay. This is not unusual during the courtship days of early spring or during the summer when the young

Gail Mays of Natalia scholarship recipient

Miss Lorraine Gail Mays, 1974 graduate of Natalia High School, has been awarded a $750 Clark Foundation Scholarship by the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation, according to an announcement by Natalia Principal B. C. McDonald.

The Clark Foundation provided funds for 64 of the $750 grants to be given to outstanding participants in University Interscholastic League academic and literary contests. The TILF administers the grants.

Miss Mays earned eligibility for the Clark Scholarship by participating in the Ready Writing and Journalism contests. She won first in District and third in Regional in the 1974 Ready Writing contests. In 1973 she won first in District and competed at Regional in Ready Writing.

She won both first and second places in the Interscholastic League Press Conference Yearbook Art contests in 1973.

Miss Mays was a member of National Honor Society, Future Teachers of America, Spanish Club and Math Club. She was editor of the school yearbook and artist on the newspaper staff.

Valedictorian of her graduating class, she earned a 96.0 four-year grade average in high school.

"Miss Mays is a very good student," said R. J. Kidd, TILF consultant. "Her outstanding grade average, high score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test, interschool competition record and extra curricular activity work prove that she has the energy, talent and determination to succeed in whatever field she chooses. We are proud to have her as a Clark Scholar."

She plans to major in education and art at Ambassador College in preparation for a career in teaching.
